How can you help?

The MSF needs your help to do an effective job:

- We need safety information from you to spread the word so that:
 - others can look out for the possibilities of similar events
 - others can learn from your recommendations
 - lateral learning can take place
- We need your safety statistics
- We need sea staff, offshore installation personnel and management to attend All Members Meetings to share information
- We need membership to fund the forum
- We need willing volunteers to form and assist workgroups by adding expertise in particular fields
- We need to know your concerns about any aspect of marine safety
